Parent to Parent of Wisconsin

Having a child with special needs is often a life altering experience...

"...connecting with and getting support from other parents has been like coming home, a place where people get it."

Exceptional Parent

Parent to Parent of Wisconsin

Provides

Parent Matching

One-to-one connections for parents new to having a child with special needs, experiencing a time of stress or simply seeking support from another parent who has been there.

Support Parent Trainings

Trainings for parents raising children with special health care needs that feel they are ready to become a Support Parent.

Support Parent Trainings will provide parents with a time to:

- ♦ Reflect on their own journey and the adjustments they have made along the way,
- ♦ Learn specific communication and listening skills,
- ♦ Consider the role of the "Support Parent",
- ♦ Practice newly acquired skills, building on personal knowledge in preparation to serve as a Support Parent.

What Parents Say...

"You realize that you're not alone dealing with problems. You have someone there who has similar experiences and understands. The common thread is your child and the problems that he or she has and how you cope with them."

"That really lightened the load for me. If I didn't feel confident in going to someone else, I know that I could always pick up the telephone and call my support parent."

"The light at the end of our tunnel came in the form of Nancy, our supporting parent. She had encountered all that we were facing, and she listened with a sensitive ear. Her own experiences meant that she understood everything I was feeling."

The Heart of Matching

"It is when we try to grapple with another man's intimate need that we perceive how incomprehensible, wavering, and misty are the beings that share with us the sight of the stars and the warmth of the sun."

--Joseph Conrad

"...with the support of another parent we begin to see through the cracks and find joy in places we never could have imagined. Our journey continues, but this time we feel that we will survive because we know another parent who has been there." Exceptional Parent
